INTRA-COLLEGE FEST: PRODIGY

Date: 21st August, 2025

No. Of Participants: 75

Brief Report:

The BAF Department of Lala Lajpat Rai College of Commerce and Economics successfully organized an intra-college fest named "PRODIGY". The fest brought together enthusiastic participation from students across all self-financed streams of the college. The event aimed to encourage creativity, critical thinking, and team spirit through a variety of engaging activities. We were honoured to have Ms. Iqra Shaikh as the judge of our fest. She holds an M.Com degree, has cleared SAT, and is now pursuing her PhD. With her academic excellence and sharp insights, she brought great value to the event and guided participants with her thoughtful judgment.

The successful organization of the fest was possible under the guidance and support of: Dr. Minum Saksena and Prof. Siddique Shaikh. Their constant encouragement and leadership made PRODIGY a memorable event for all. The event ended on a cheerful note with active participation and appreciation from both students and faculty.

Events Conducted:

The fest consisted of three exciting events:

1. Pitch Punk: Inspired by Shark Tank, participants presented their innovative and unique business ideas. This event encouraged entrepreneurial thinking and problem-solving skills.

2. Profit Play: A simulation of the share market, where participants invested virtually in profitable companies. It gave students a fun yet practical experience of market strategies and financial decision-making.

3. Mystery Maze: A light-hearted and interactive segment where students played games such as Guess the Movie, Guess the Slogans and Riddles. This event created a lively atmosphere and gave everyone a chance to relax and enjoy.

Outcome:

The fest was a great success, filled with creativity, learning, and enjoyment. Participants not only showcased their innovative skills but also experienced teamwork and friendly competition. Overall,
